More Aid to Farmer Urged by Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told Congress today the government should extend a bigger helping hand to the nation's farmers. He called for broader federal payments to them and urged efforts for reducing rural poverty.

The President sent his views to Capitol Hill in a special farm message.

In taking a firm stand in support of federal intervention in agriculture, he may have laid down the line for his party's election-year battle on the farm issue. He asked for revival of part of the controversial Brannan Plan.

Many Republicans and some farm groups want the government to make a gradual withdrawal from government price, production and marketing control programs for agriculture.

Johnson's proposals for commodity programs contained no surprises for farm leaders. They were in line with those advanced last year by the late President John F. Kennedy and by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Key recommendations included:

—Changes in the commodity programs for cotton, wheat, milk and potatoes. The revisions are aimed at improving the income of the producers of these products and at strengthening the family farm.

—A five-year extension of the Food for Peace program and an expansion of the domestic food stamp program. More than $12 billion in farm surpluses moved to needy countries under the Food for Peace plan. The stamp plan enables needy persons to buy increased quantities of food at regular grocery stores.

—Greater use of human and material resources in rural America under programs aimed at combating poverty, largely

U.S. Marine Force Heavy Near Cyprus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has twice as many Marines as usual in the Mediterranean, it was learned today.

Thus, there are about 3,400 Leathernecks and two amphibious task forces available for use in Cyprus if a decision is made to send in a peacekeeping expedition representing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Such a move has been rumored for some time, but the White House says President Johnson has made no final decision.

Press aide Andrew Hatcher told newsmen Thursday that Cyprus was one of several subjects discussed by the President and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in the afternoon.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was summoned to the White House for an early evening conference, presumably to cover the same ground.

The presence of two reinforced Marine battalion landing teams in the Mediterranean at this time is coincidental. One six-ship amphibious force with its 1,700-man battalion has arrived there from the Atlantic Coast to replace another force of similar size that has been on duty in the Mediterranean since early last fall.

2 Radio-TV Networks Face Strike Deadline

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Negotiators worked against a midnight strike deadline today to avert a nationwide strike against two major radio and television networks.

Members of the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians have authorized their representatives to call a strike if necessary at midnight, EST. The networks involved are the American Broadcasting Co. and the National Broadcasting Co.

How much would his farm program cost?

Johnson had given the figures

Of the new total, about $1.7 billion would be spent for farm aid programs—compared with $1.9 billion this year. The rest would be spent on research,

House Debates Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil rights bill launched last summer at the height of Negro demonstrations reached the House floor today.

At least a week of debate and wrangling over amendments faces the House before a vote is taken on the omnibus measure aimed at strengthening federal authority to deal with racial discrimination wherever it exists.

Shaped by a bipartisan group and strongly backed by Democratic and Republican House leaders, it is expected to emerge from the House in fairly good shape, ready for the tougher struggle awaiting it in the Senate.

Ten hours have been set aside for general debate and the House will meet again Saturday in hopes of using them all up by Saturday night and starting on the amendments Monday. Under House rules each member is entitled to speak for five minutes on any amendment.

The Republicans, most of whom plan to leave town to attend Lincoln Day rallies the week starting Feb. 9, would like to complete action on the bill next Friday. The leadership has said only that a final vote will come by Feb. 11.

The bill is the most sweeping in the field of civil rights to come before Congress in a century and Southerners are prepared to mount the oratorical breastworks to oppose it.

In hearings and press releases they have condemned the bill as a destroyer of civil rights for all and as "the greatest grasp for executive power conceived in the 20th Century."

Three provisions in particular are certain to draw the heaviest fire, and with many Republicans also having reservations about them, are the most susceptible to amendment.

These provisions would ban racial discrimination in hotels, motels, restaurants, theaters, sports arenas and other places.

Fliers' Bodies Returned to West Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—The bodies of three U.S. Air Force officers shot down over Communist East Germany were brought to West Berlin today.

A brief ceremony was held at West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport before the bodies were loaded aboard an Air Force transport to be flown to Wiesbaden, West Germany.

The fliers were stationed at Wiesbaden and their widows and children live there.

The officers, whose unarmed jet trainer was shot down Tuesday by Soviet fighters, were Lt. Col. Gerald Hannaford, 41, Austin, Tex.; Capt. Donald Millard, 33, Ukiah, Calif.; and Capt. John Lorraine, 34, Jacksonville, Fla.

The bodies and the wreckage of the twin-engine T39 trainer were to have been brought out of East Germany together. But recovery of the wreckage apparently proved more difficult than expected. Air Force authorities said it would arrive in West Berlin tonight.

The Soviets agreed Thursday to release the bodies and the wreckage.

Library Aid Boosted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sent to President Johnson on Thursday a bill boosting federal aid to libraries from $7.5 million a year to $45 million and removing a limitation that confines the aid to rural areas with less than 10,000 population.

generally open to the public; create an equal employment opportunity commission to investigate complaints of racial discrimination in employment practices and seek redress in the courts for violations; and empower federal agencies to cut off funds for programs or activities in which states discriminate among the recipients on the basis of race.

Other provisions are aimed at securing voting rights of Negroes, speeding school desegregation, giving new duties and permanent status to the Civil Rights Commission and ending segregation in public parks, playgrounds and other government-operated facilities.

Vietnamese Marking Time

New Junta Seeks Reorganization

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam marked time today as Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh's new military junta faced a major job of government reorganization, threats of heightened Viet Cong attack and the possibility of more army power struggles.

The nation continued its business on momentum following the army corps commander's seizure of power Thursday in a quick, bloodless coup.

Khanh, 37, who vowed to step up the war against the Communist guerrillas, appointed a 35-member military junta. There was no announcement of who would hold the key posts.

The tanks and troops that helped overthrow the old junta disappeared from Saigon today. Most people had paid scant attention to developments.

As the new regime slapped posters on walls and broadcast slogans over the radio, one Vietnamese official commented: "This kind of thing has been going on so long and so often we Saigonese are a little bored."

Khanh today made his first public appearance since the coup. He went to the Saigon airport to say goodbye to Gen. Le Van Ty, who reportedly is going to the United States for medical treatment.

Khanh appointed 17 generals and 18 colonels to a new revolutionary council, replacing the three-month-old junta of Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, provisional chief of state.

Minh, popular leader of the generals' revolt against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem Nov. 1-2, was ousted after he refused to continue as figurehead chairman of the new junta. Minh was not arrested, however.

Khanh also dismissed Premier Nguyen Ngoc Tho, the government's civilian leader who has held public office continuously since 1930. He was vice president under Diem.

All-White Jury Eyes Negro Slaying

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The state will seek the death penalty for Byron De La Beckwith, a white man charged with murder in the slaying of Medgar Evers, a Negro civil rights leader.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller, 37, said the state wants the death penalty in the case—one of the most controversial in Mississippi history.

Beckwith, 43, a segregationist, is accused of shooting Evers in the back with a high-powered rifle from ambush last June 12. The all-white jury, plus an alternate juror in case one of the 12 falls ill, was sworn in Thursday. Choosing it took four days, plus three night sessions.

HAND BACK ON AND O.K. — Wilfred Chabotte, 42, rests in hospital in Hartford, Conn., while his sewed-back-on hand starts to heal. He was working in an ice house, fell into an ice cutting machine and his left hand was completely cut off. He put it in a paper bag and carried it to the hospital, where surgeons re-attached it in a seven-hour operation. A doctor said it "appears circulation has been re-established."

Cleveland Racial Tension Eases after Violence

CLEVELAND (AP) — This city's tense racial situation, triggered by a school integration dispute, eased somewhat today following the most violent racial demonstration seen here in several years.

Civil rights groups announced they would make no further effort for the time being to picket a public school in "Little Italy" on the East Side, scene of the day-long unrest Thursday.

However, the United Freedom Movement, a civil rights group, said there would be picketing and sit-ins at the downtown School Board headquarters.

The UFM said it rejected a board proposal for settling the crisis and said a new program of direct action was planned to support demands for immediate integration of Negro pupils transported by bus from overcrowded Hazeldehl School to three predominantly white schools.

More than 400 people, aroused by the civil rights groups threat to picket the predominantly white Murray Hill Public School, swarmed into the streets of Little Italy Thursday.

Before the violence ended, two Negroes had been beaten, a number of cameramen were roughed up, windows of at least four cars were smashed and four Negroes were cut by flying glass.

A crowd of whites, expecting picketing at Murray Hill, began forming early Thursday. The pickets never reached the area, but the crowd swelled and its mood became uglier as the hours wore on.

In contrast to the groups made up mostly of mothers who greeted civil rights pickets at two other schools Wednesday, the crowd at Murray Hill was composed primarily of men and youths.

Some carried wooden clubs, baseball bats or tire irons. The crowd at times completely blocked Mayfield Road (U.S. 322) a city block from the school and roamed the streets in the area.

One of the most violent incidents took place late in the afternoon after the pickets had long since abandoned their assembly spot and while Negro children were being removed peacefully from the school.

The crowd on Mayfield Road swarmed over a car in which a Negro man and woman were riding and smashed all the windows. Police called for more men to help the force of mounted patrolmen and cruisers who had been on hand through the day.

Two arrests were made—the only arrests all day—but the two youths involved later were released to their parents.

The school integration fust has been simmering since the Board of Education started two years ago transporting pupils by bus from Hazeldehl. Some 800 pupils are taken each day from the badly overcrowded Hazeldehl School, and parents at the other schools say they were told that these pupils would be kept in separate classrooms.

The civil rights groups have demanded complete integration at the receiving schools and rejected as too limited a plan for partial integration inaugurated this week.

Ohio BUC Claims Labeled as 'Phony'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Willard P. Dudley, administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, has been assailed by an Ohio congressman for releasing information "as phony as a Confederate three dollar bill."

Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, referred Thursday in a letter to Dudley to recent releases by Dudley's department in which delayed fraudulent practices were discussed. Hays told Dudley such claims are phony "and you know it."

The congressman also said Dudley is trying to recoup from the federal government $174,233 which the Ohio Legislature cut from the bureau's program.

U.S. Moon Shot Is on Target

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Space scientists reaimed the off-course camera-carrying Ranger 6 by remote control early today and later said "we probably will hit the moon."

Dr. William Pickering, director of Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which is controlling the flight, said "the midcourse correction seemed normal."

"Everything continues to look very good," said Pickering. "On the basis of information radioed back by the spacecraft, I can say that we probably will hit the moon."

Signals pointing the spacecraft dead center at the moon and igniting its small booster rocket were flashed 101,000 miles across space at 12:30 a.m., almost 17 hours after the launching at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

At 1 a.m., officials announced that the signals had been received by the spacecraft and that the 50-pound-thrust booster rocket had ignited.

Plans called for this to increase the spacecraft's 4,343-mile-an-hour speed by 92 m.p.h. and thus pull the trajectory toward the center of the moon.

Prior to the maneuver, Ranger 6 was on a course that would have missed the moon by 600 miles.

Ranger 6 carried six television cameras designed to snap up to 3,000 closeup pictures of the moon in the final 10 minutes of its flight.

These would be the closest pictures yet taken of the moon's surface. The Soviet Lunik 3 photographed the back side of the moon in 1959, but from an altitude of 4,000 miles.

Earthbound telescopes have been unable to see even objects as large as aircraft carriers on the moon. Pictures taken by Ranger's cameras in the last few seconds before impact should distinguish objects as small as a card table.

Such fine detail would give scientists a better idea of the lunar surface where American

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rep. Robert Taft Jr., candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. senator from Ohio, says the Johnson administration is trying to persuade the American people that they can have government economy, a tax cut and more federal handouts at the same time.

Taft, speaking here Thursday to Republican law students at Ohio State University, added: "It will be a neat trick if it works."

U.S. Urges Rocket Freeze

Disarmament Parley Hears Plan

GENEVA (AP) — The United States called on the Soviet Union today to join in freezing all development of military rockets and other means of delivering nuclear arms.

U.S. Delegate William C. Foster explained the American proposal at the 17-nation disarmament conference. It is one of several suggestions President Johnson made when the conference resumed Jan. 21.

Foster said a freeze of nuclear weapons carrier "would be an accomplishment beyond any 'confidence-building' measure in significance, yet one that could be achieved in a reasonable period of time."

It would also permit a significant cut of military budgets, reduce world tension and bring closer general disarmament, he added.

There was no immediate reaction from Soviet Delegate Senyon K. Tsarapkin.

The American proposal would freeze strategic missiles, aircraft and antimissile missiles. No further technical development of these delivery vehicles would be allowed, and they would be kept at a constant numerical level.

East and West would agree to allow the testing of missiles — without warheads — to ensure continued reliability of the systems. Each missile taken out of operation after the freeze would be destroyed and replaced by a missile of exactly the same type.

18 Offices Of BUC Due To Be Closed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cuts in federal administrative funds will force the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to close 18 "itinerant" offices serving jobless benefit claimants one or two days a week, Administrator Willard P. Dudley said today.

The closing Feb. 10 will save about $57,000 in administrative funds during the year, Dudley estimated.

Offices ordered closed are Bryan, Caidz, Caldwell, Circleville, East Palestine, Eaton, Hillsboro, London, McArthur, McConellsville, Medina, Mount Gilead, Ottawa, Pomeroy, Uhrichsville, Urbana, Wilmington and Woodfield.

Dudley said claimants in the effected areas will file their claims in the nearest local BUC office.

The administrator announced previously that federal cuts in administrative allocations to Ohio will force a layoff of about 500 employees next month.

Red China Tie Said Needed

French Chief Mum About '2 Chinas'

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today advocated the neutralization of Southeast Asia and said relations with Red China are necessary to achieve it.

Speaking to a crowded news conference, De Gaulle thus defended his decision earlier this week to establish diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communist regime.

He declined to comment on the two-Chinas issue — that is recognizing both the Chinese Communist and Nationalist regimes.

In a news statement which took him more than an hour and a half to read he spent only about five minutes on the Chinese issue.

De Gaulle was careful, at two or three points, to describe the Chinese Communist regime as "Peking" or "peoples' China."

Speaking of China in general, De Gaulle said it is impossible for France or the West to have any policy for Southeast Asia or even for the Soviet Union that does not take China's influence into account.

For Southeast Asia, he mentioned Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, India, Pakistan and Burma.

De Gaulle's previous advocacy of neutralization of Communist North Viet Nam and the U.S.-backed Republic of South Viet Nam was a factor in the Saigon coup executed by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thursday.

De Gaulle sidestepped any direct comment on the Nationalist regime of President Chiang Kai-Shek, or its possible place in a two-Chinas policy.

He avoided mentioning the diplomatic hassle which already has developed between Paris and Peking over whether France can maintain relations with Nationalist China.

De Gaulle recognized Mao Tse-tung's regime on Monday and France and Communist China announced they would exchange ambassadors within three months. Despite vehement

U.S. Beefs Up Wallop in Nuclear Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has disclosed development of nuclear bombs and intercontinental missiles of greatly increased wallop during 1963—and reported it can produce even more powerful models in the future.

At the same time, in a report of unprecedented frankness in the nuclear weaponry field, the government disclosed it has:

Enhanced its abilities to defend the United States and its allies against possible nuclear attack and to penetrate enemy defenses against U.S. missiles and bombs.

Found ways of greatly reducing the radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons—that is, ways of making so-called cleaner bombs and warheads.

Cleveland Racial Tension Eases after Violence

Johnson also sent to Congress legislation to extend overtime and minimum wage protection to more than 2 million additional workers. The proposals were in the form of amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act.

Signals pointing the spacecraft dead center at the moon and igniting its small booster rocket were flashed 101,000 miles across space at 12:30 a.m., almost 17 hours after the launching at Cape Kennedy, Fla.

At 1 a.m., officials announced that the signals had been received by the spacecraft and that the 50-pound-thrust booster rocket had ignited.

Plans called for this to increase the spacecraft's 4,343-mile-an-hour speed by 92 m.p.h. and thus pull the trajectory toward the center of the moon.

Prior to the maneuver, Ranger 6 was on a course that would have missed the moon by 600 miles.

Ranger 6 carried six television cameras designed to snap up to 3,000 closeup pictures of the moon in the final 10 minutes of its flight.

These would be the closest pictures yet taken of the moon's surface. The Soviet Lunik 3 photographed the back side of the moon in 1959, but from an altitude of 4,000 miles.

Earthbound telescopes have been unable to see even objects as large as aircraft carriers on the moon. Pictures taken by Ranger's cameras in the last few seconds before impact should distinguish objects as small as a card table.

Such fine detail would give scientists a better idea of the lunar surface where American astronauts may land by the end of this decade.

Laboratory officials said Ranger 6 would coast through space until early Sunday.

About 65 hours after launch, the spacecraft will be ordered to train its television cameras on the moon's surface. In the final 10 minutes before impact, the six cameras will begin snapping pictures at the rate of about 300 a minute.

Laboratory officials said they hope to release some of the photographs within 14 hours.

U.S. Urges Rocket Freeze

Disarmament Parley Hears Plan

GENEVA (AP) — The United States called on the Soviet Union today to join in freezing all development of military rockets and other means of delivering nuclear arms.

U.S. Delegate William C. Foster explained the American proposal at the 17-nation disarmament conference. It is one of several suggestions President Johnson made when the conference resumed Jan. 21.

Foster said a freeze of nuclear weapons carrier "would be an accomplishment far beyond any 'confidence-building' measure in significance, yet one that could be achieved in a reasonable period of time."

It would also permit a significant cut of military budgets, reduce world tension and bring closer general disarmament, he added.

There was no immediate reaction from Soviet Delegate Sergeyon K. Tsarapkin.

The American proposal would freeze strategic missiles, aircraft and antimissile missiles. No further technical development of these delivery vehicles would be allowed, and they would be kept at a constant numerical level.

East and West would agree to allow the testing of missiles — without warheads — to ensure continued reliability of the systems. Each missile taken out of operation after the freeze would be destroyed and replaced by a missile of exactly the same type.

18 Offices Of BUC Due To Be Closed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Cuts in federal administrative funds will force the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation to close 18 "itinerant" offices serving jobless benefit claimants one or two days a week, Administrator Willard P. Dudley said today.

The closing Feb. 10 will save about $57,000 in administrative funds during the year, Dudley estimated.

Offices ordered closed are Bryan, Cadiz, Caldwell, Circleville, East Palestine, Eaton, Hillsboro, London, McArthur, McConsville, Medina, Mount Gilead, Ottawa, Pomeroy, Uhrichsville, Urbana, Wilmington and Woodfield.

Dudley said claimants in the effected areas will file their claims in the nearest local BUC office.

The administrator announced previously that federal cuts in administrative allocations to Ohio will force a layoff of about 500 employees next month.

Brown Files Petitions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown filed petitions today to qualify him for the Republican U.S. senatorial nomination. The papers bore some 5,000 signatures from all 88 counties.

Red China Tie Said Needed

French Chief Mum About '2 Chinas'

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle today advocated the neutralization of Southeast Asia and said relations with Red China are necessary to achieve it.

Speaking to a crowded news conference, De Gaulle thus defended his decision earlier this week to establish diplomatic relations with the Chinese Communist regime.

He declined to comment on the two-Chinas issue — that is recognizing both the Chinese Communist and Nationalist regimes.

In a news statement which took him more than an hour and a half to read he spent only about five minutes on the Chinese issue.

De Gaulle was careful, at two or three points, to describe the Chinese Communist regime as "Peking" or "peoples' China." Speaking of China in general, De Gaulle said it is impossible for France or the West to have any policy for Southeast Asia or even for the Soviet Union that does not take China's influence into account.

For Southeast Asia, he mentioned Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, India, Pakistan and Burma.

De Gaulle's previous advocacy of neutralization of Communist North Viet Nam and the U.S.-backed Republic of South Viet Nam was a factor in the Saigon coup executed by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh Thursday.

De Gaulle sidestepped any direct comment on the Nationalist regime of President Chiang Kai-Shek, or its possible place in a two-Chinas policy.

He avoided mentioning the diplomatic hassle which already has developed between Paris and Peking over whether France can maintain relations with Nationalist China.

U.S. Beefs Up Wallop in Nuclear Arms

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has disclosed development of nuclear bombs and intercontinental missiles of greatly increased wallop during 1963—and reported it can produce even more powerful models in the future.

At the same time, in a report of unprecedented frankness in the nuclear weaponry field, the government disclosed it has:

Enhanced its abilities to defend the United States and its allies against possible nuclear attack and to penetrate enemy defenses against U.S. missiles and bombs.

Found ways of greatly reducing the radioactive fallout from nuclear weapons—that is, ways of making so-called cleaner bombs and warheads.

These developments were unveiled by the Atomic Energy Commission in its annual report to Congress.

He Wishes He'd Taken $2 Offer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Albert Holland and Frank Osbar found a small package marked "Top Secret — Cape Kennedy" in a Nashville street Thursday.

"Rocket fuel—keep off hands—will burn," read a warning on the side of the 12-inch-square box.

Prying open the box, the men found sand. A smaller box was buried in it. They gingerly opened that box and found — more sand.

"A guy offered me two dollars for my share of it," Osbar said. "I wish I'd taken it."

U.S. Marine Force Heavy Near Cyprus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has twice as many Marines as usual in the Mediterranean, it was learned today.

Thus, there are about 3,400 Leathernecks and two amphibious task forces available for use in Cyprus if a decision is made to send in a peacekeeping expedition representing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Such a move has been rumored for some time, but the White House says President Johnson has made no final decision.

Press aide Andrew Hatcher told newsmen Thursday that Cyprus was one of several subjects discussed by the President and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara in the afternoon.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was summoned to the White House for an early evening conference, presumably to cover the same ground.

The presence of two reinforced Marine battalion landing teams in the Mediterranean at this time is coincidental.

One six-ship amphibious force with its 1,700-man battalion has arrived there from the Atlantic Coast to replace another force of similar size that has been on duty in the Mediterranean since early last fall.

protests, the Nationalist government maintained its relations with France.

Peking on Tuesday said it had understood that France would break relations with President Chiang Kai-shek's government. France countered by saying it had made no such agreement and that its recognition of Communist China was bound by no conditions.

Then came a French statement which indicated De Gaulle was favorably considering the Peking argument. But officials refused to project developments.

A break with the Nationalists would open De Gaulle to the accusation that he was backing down to Communist pressure.

De Gaulle defended his decision to recognize the Peking regime with these words:

"Because of the fact that, for 15 years, almost all of China has been assembled under a government which applies its laws and which manifests itself abroad as a sovereign and independent power, France has been ready in principle for a long time to establish regular relations with Peking."

"Before the weight of the evidence, the French republic has decided to place its relations with the peoples' China on a normal diplomatic basis. The two governments have agreed to carry out the necessary steps."

De Gaulle did not say what position France now will take toward Formosa.

The President said the agreement to establish relations with Peking in no way implied approval of the Chinese Communist regime.

"France acknowledges the world as it is," he commented.

Referring to the Chinese-Russian split, De Gaulle said that the Kremlin wanted "to keep China under its domination, and thus to dominate all Asia."

He said that behind the "torn robe" of doctrinal solidarity differences of national policy were showing more and more between Russia and Red China.

Spangler said the car was identified by matching a piece of glass found at the scene of the accident with a broken taillight on Rooney's auto.

Food for Peace and other programs not providing direct payments to farmers.

An administration spokesman said the recommendations for broadened payments to increase farm income would not add to the cost of farm programs. The payments would come, he said, from savings that would result through a planned reduction in surpluses.

The President said some of the programs needed improving. Bills that would carry out his ideas are already pending in Congress.

Johnson would use what in agriculture is commonly called compensatory payments out of the treasury to augment the market income of cotton, wheat, milk and potato producers.

Such payments were a feature of a controversial farm plan advanced in 1949 by Charles F. Brannan, secretary of agriculture under President Harry S. Truman. This plan was never accepted by Congress. It has run into bitter opposition from most Republicans, some Democrats and a number of farm groups, notably the Farm Bureau.

Top Bandleader Says Era Of Jazz Appears Fading

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "It's sad," said Ben Pollack, one of the great names of jazz. "In another 10 years our era will be gone, and there will be no one to show the new generation what real Dixieland is like."

The famed bandleader of the 1920s and 1930s had returned to his desert home after attending last week's funeral of the great trombonist, Jack Teagarden. Like many of the big names of the jazz and swing eras, Jack had been one of Ben's boys.

Pollack, 60, can look back on a half-century in the music business.

"I really started playing drums professionally when I was 10 and worked for an auto ride and half a buck," said the Chicago-born musician. "But my first steady work was with the New Orleans Rhythm Band which I joined in 1918."

By 1923 he had formed his own band to play in a dance hall near Los Angeles. The next year a boy of 15 arrived from Chicago a lad Ben had seen doing imitations of Ted Lewis. Ben bought him some long pants and gave him a job playing clarinet and that's how Benny Goodman started in the band business.

Miller, a young trombonist from Colorado, joined Ben in 1925. Others who played under Ben's direction include Ray McKinley, Bud Freeman, Jimmy McPartland, Matty Mattlock, Charlie Spivak, Charlie

Teagarden, Ray Bauduc, Eddie Miller and Nappy Lamarr. Ben drifted out of the band business during the war, partly at the urging of Miller. "Glenn hated agents," Ben said, "and he talked to me before he went into the service about setting up our own agency to develop new bands. He told me to go ahead with it, and I did. But Glenn didn't come back."

After the war Ben tried the record business, then ran a successful jazz joint on the Sunset Strip in Hollywood for nine years. A siege of hepatitis laid him low, then he had an automobile accident. But he's feeling fit now and getting set to resume his long romance with jazz.

He'll soon be opening a club. He has another abiding interest: A Glenn Miller memorial.

"I spoke to some of the jazzmen at Jack's funeral and they thought it was a good idea," he said. "So do a lot of Palm Springs people. My idea is to take some of the most talented high school musicians from all over the country and bring them here to study for a few weeks with people like myself who could teach them the old style of playing."

"Without something like this, the kind of music we knew will die out. Kids nowadays have the musical ability to play good jazz, but they lack the training. There's no way they can get it."

Negro Muses About Job

Attorney General Is 'Accepted'

BOSTON (AP) — Edward W. Brooke would rather be known merely as the attorney general of Massachusetts than as the first Negro elected attorney general in any state.

After one year as both, he sees some signs that he is accepted as an attorney general whose responsibilities cover a number of fields of which civil rights is just one.

"I can't turn my back on race relations," he said in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press.

But, he added, "I can't turn my back on my job as attorney general to concentrate on civil rights."

In the course of his first year in office, Brooke said references to him as a Negro, at least in Massachusetts, have died down.

Brooke, 41, contends his election "proves people will elect a man on the basis of his program."

But, he cautions, "I don't presume that the election of one man will solve the racial problem."

He denies that he has moved cautiously in civil rights because he is a Negro.

"The civil rights division is just one of 12 in this office," he says, adding that it has been active during the past year, and that "I think progress has been made."

Lee Kozol, head of the civil rights division, has met with leaders in business, labor and housing, Brooke said, and has succeeded in improving Negro opportunities in several areas. At every mention of civil rights demonstrations, Brooke emphasizes his belief that they must be legal.

His favorite phrase when discussing the Negro's fight for equal rights is that he "must win allies, not conquer adversaries."

Edward Brooke, the politician, has faced another problem his first year in office. He is the only Republican holding statewide office in Massachusetts.

Lausche Feels Dubious about Cut in Taxes

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says that the proposed cut in federal taxes is an experiment which "if it proves wrong in all probability will be catastrophic in its damaging impact upon the strength of our country."

"I would like to vote for a tax cut," Lausche said in a speech at the Independent Grocers Alliance President's Conference.

In an apparent reference to proponents of a tax cut, he said he would "not join that movement on the false prophets who are with us."

The major dangers which beset the United States, Lausche said, do not originate from other nations, but from "the weakness of our domestic management." He cited as home-grown weaknesses federal social welfare programs and the "dangerous position" of U.S. gold reserves.

"The stresses are beginning to manifest themselves," he said. "If they ever break loose inflation will run rampant."

The Ohio senator also warned of Russia's "pretended reconciliation with the free West."

Cuba, he said, has become the principal base of training for Communists of the world.

"The longer we delay in dealing effectively with Castro," Lausche said, "the worse our position will be."

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this time in history, when big powers would rather look like Santa Claus than Machiavelli, they show both modesty and reluctance about claiming credit for revolutions, mutinies, coups and riots.

At the same time, even if big power No. 1 didn't have a hand in an overthrow in some smaller nation, this doesn't discourage big power No. 2 from blaming No. 1 anyway.

When a military junta last November sacked the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem in South Viet Nam, this country officially disclaimed any involvement although it was irked by Diem's slow war on communism.

There wasn't much doubt, though, that the United States had made the climate for the coup possible by its call for reforms in Viet Nam. The Soviet Union promptly accused this country of engineering the coup.

A few weeks ago, when Panamanians rioted against American occupants of the Canal Zone, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said it was plain the violence was substantially promoted by agents trained in Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The Soviets said the whole thing was the result of "American colonialism" and the Panamanians accused the United States of aggression.

More recently Africans revolted against Arab rule in Zanzibar, and in Tanganyika, Uganda

Barber Ruled Innocent In Robbery of Bank

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. District Court jury Thursday night found Charles Mulligan, Youngstown barber innocent of attempted robbery of a branch bank at Alliance.

Government attorneys argued that Mulligan, 30, and two other men kidnaped an official of the College Park Branch of the First National Bank of Alliance and forced him to drive to the bank and open the vault on March 26, 1962. They said the three men were scared away by a police cruiser after putting more than $1,000 in a bag.

Rush Creek Project OK'd by House Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $5.6 million flood-retarding Rush Creek watershed project for Fairfield, Hocking and Perry counties in Ohio has been approved by a House Public Works subcommittee.

The proposal now goes to the full committee for approval and then onto the Senate Public Works Committee.

and Kenya native troops continued. Racism and lack of discipline could have been the basic motives.

But this happened as Red China's Premier Chou En-lai was traveling across Africa, trying to spread some influence, and Castro-trained agents were reported at the scene of trouble.

It's possible that Castro is getting far more credit, or blame, than he is entitled to but, with the big nations jockeying for power, the West could not help wondering what role communism had played in all this.

Then this week the junta that threw out Viet Nam's President Diem was given the heave-ho by a new Vietnamese strong man, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

After Khanh took over, the United States did what it did after the November coup: It disclaimed any involvement.

The Soviets couldn't miss an opportunity like this and they, too, did what they did after the November coup: They charged the United States was up to its neck in the coup.

Khanh had something to say about his motives, and what he said will create some brand new argument.

He indicated two reasons for seizing power: That the junta hadn't been fighting communism hard enough and he wanted to get rid of "traitors who advocate neutralism."

Now a break between Saigon and Paris is expected.

(Khanh also has been described in reports from Viet Nam as a man sorely peeved at the junta for not promoting him after the November coup.)

A break between Saigon and France will hardly be bad news for the United States, which was sorely peeved at French President de Gaulle for sticking his long Gallic nose into the Vietnamese problem.

Months ago De Gaulle proposed an end to the war in Viet Nam by neutralizing Communist North Viet Nam and U.S.-backed South Viet Nam. If it ever happened, it would be a neat way for De Gaulle to try to re-establish French influence in Viet Nam, where the French armies lost out in 1954.

Ohio Still Is Involved In Continuing Drought

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State hydrologist Paul Kaser says Ohio still is involved in its worst drought in 80 years. He said there has been no effective change in reservoirs and streams and it appears that the state may have a 50 to 60 per cent deficiency in precipitation for January.

Civil Rights Bill OK Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, is predicting House passage of a civil rights bill, including a public accommodations section, within a week or 10 days.

The House is expected to take up the controversial measure Friday under procedure allowing a week of debate.

McCulloch, senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee will be in charge of the strategy on the GOP side of the aisle.

From his own standpoint, McCulloch said, he is interested in getting a law on the books and is not seeking an issue for the 1964 campaign.

"This is a moral question," McCulloch said. "The civil rights that are affected by the legislation are and have been guaranteed in the Constitution for three quarters of a century."

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Rayburn, who guides the progress of NBC's daytime "Match Game," insists that participating in a panel show is not as easy as it looks.

Rayburn, whose broadcasting experience includes announcing, disc jockeying and acting, says that players and host must not only concentrate on the game at hand but also give the session "dimensions of vitality, lightness, and humor."

Rayburn, in addition to presiding over "Match Game," a guessing game, often turns up as a panelist on other shows.

"To Tell the Truth," he says, is the most difficult game to play.

"People seem to think the panel has some advance information about the contestants," he said. "We don't know a single thing until the information is read off. It's a fast game in which a lot of information helps."

CBS, still putting together its 1964-65 schedule, plans to make its formal announcement early next week. Among the new shows pretty certain to be on its schedule are comedy series starring Cara Williams, late of "Pete and Gladys," and Jim Nabors, playing Gomer Pyle, a character invented on the "Andy Griffith Show."

"The Lacy Show" is almost certain to remain as is—a half hour. "The Defenders" is expected to move to Tuesday nights to make room for Carol Burnett's "The Entertainers" on Saturday.

All this is tentative. Last season, CBS announced its fall schedule in March, boasting it had "locked up" earlier than ever before in history. But it did not throw away the key, because subsequently a number of changes were made.

Top Bandleader Says Era Of Jazz Appears Fading

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — "It's sad," said Ben Pollack, one of the great names of jazz. "In another 10 years our era will be gone, and there will be no one to show the new generation what real Dixieland is like."

The famed bandleader of the 1920s and 1930s had returned to his desert home after attending last week's funeral of the great trombonist, Jack Teagarden. Like many of the big names of the jazz and swing eras, Jack had been one of Ben's boys.

Pollack, 60, can look back on a half-century in the music business.

"I really started playing drums professionally when I was 10 and worked for an auto ride and half a buck," said the Chicago-born musician. "But my first steady work was with the New Orleans Rhythm Band which I joined in 1918."

By 1923 he had formed his own band to play in a dance hall near Los Angeles. The next year a boy of 15 arrived from Chicago and Ben had seen doing imitations of Ted Lewis. Ben bought him some long pants and gave him a job playing clarinet and that's how Benny Goodman started in the band business.

Miller, a young trombonist from Colorado, joined Ben in 1925. Others who played under Ben's direction include Ray McKinley, Bud Freeman, Jimmy McPartland, Matty Mattlock, Charlie Spivak, Charlie

Teagarden, Ray Bauduc, Eddie Miller and Nappy Lamarr. Ben drifted out of the band business during the war, partly at the urging of Miller.

"Glenn hated agents," Ben said, "and he talked to me before he went into the service about setting up our own agency to develop new bands. He told me to go ahead with it, and I did. But Glenn didn't come back."

After the war Ben tried the record business, then ran a successful jazz joint on the Sunset Strip in Hollywood for nine years. A siege of hepatitis laid him low, then he had an automobile accident. But he's feeling fit now and getting set to resume his long romance with jazz.

He'll soon be opening a club. He has another abiding interest: A Glenn Miller memorial.

"I spoke to some of the jazzmen at Jack's funeral and they thought it was a good idea," he said. "So do a lot of Palm Springs people. My idea is to take some of the most talented high school musicians from all over the country and bring them here to study for a few weeks with people like myself who could teach them the old style of playing."

"Without something like this, the kind of music we knew will die out. Kids nowadays have the musical ability to play good jazz, but they lack the training. There's no way they can get it."

Brillo Told To Sell Holdings in London

WASHINGTON (AP) — Brillo Manufacturing Co. has been ordered by the Federal Trade Commission to sell the industrial steel wool business it acquired from the Williams Co. of London, Ohio. Thursday's decree said, however, that Brillo can retain the production facilities it obtained in the 1955 merger.

The FTC ruled last July 31 that the merger had violated the Clayton anti-merger law. The latest order generally followed the general terms suggested by Brillo.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this time in history, when big powers would rather look like Santa Claus than Machiavelli, they show both modesty and reluctance about claiming credit for revolutions, mutinies, coups and riots.

At the same time, even if big power No. 1 didn't have a hand in an overthrow in some smaller nation, this doesn't discourage big power No. 2 from blaming No. 1 anyway.

When a military junta last November sacked the government of President Ngo Dinh Diem in South Viet Nam, this country officially disclaimed any involvement although it was irked by Diem's slow war on communism.

There wasn't much doubt, though, that the United States had made the climate for the coup possible by its call for reforms in Viet Nam. The Soviet Union promptly accused this country of engineering the coup.

A few weeks ago, when Panamanians rioted against American occupants of the Canal Zone, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., said it was plain the violence was substantially promoted by agents trained in Fidel Castro's Cuba.

The Soviets said the whole thing was the result of "American colonialism" and the Panamanians accused the United States of aggression.

More recently Africans revolted against Arab rule in Zanzibar, and in Tanganyika, Uganda and Kenya native troops mutinied. Racism and lack of discipline could have been the basic motives.

But this happened as Red China's Premier Chou En-lai was traveling across Africa, trying to spread some influence, and Castro-trained agents were reported at the scene of trouble.

It's possible that Castro is getting far more credit, or blame, than he is entitled to but, with the big nations jockeying for power, the West could not help wondering what role communism had played in all this.

Then this week the junta that threw out Viet Nam's President Diem was given the heave-ho by a new Vietnamese strong man, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

After Khanh took over, the United States did what it did after the November coup: It disclaimed any involvement.

The Soviets couldn't miss an opportunity like this and they, too, did what they did after the November coup: They charged the United States was up to its neck in the coup.

Khanh had something to say about his motives, and what he said will create some brand new argument.

He indicated two reasons for seizing power: That the junta hadn't been fighting communism hard enough and he wanted

Civil Rights Bill OK Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, is predicting House passage of a civil rights bill, including a public accommodations section, within a week or 10 days.

The House is expected to take up the controversial measure Friday under procedure allowing a week of debate.

McCulloch, senior Republican on the House Judiciary Committee will be in charge of the strategy on the GOP side of the aisle.

From his own standpoint, Mc-

Culloch said, he is interested in getting a law on the books and is not seeking an issue for the 1964 campaign.

"This is a moral question," McCulloch said. "The civil rights that are affected by the legislation are and have been guaranteed in the Constitution for three quarters of a century."

3 inexpensive ways to make a "hard to heat" room comfortable

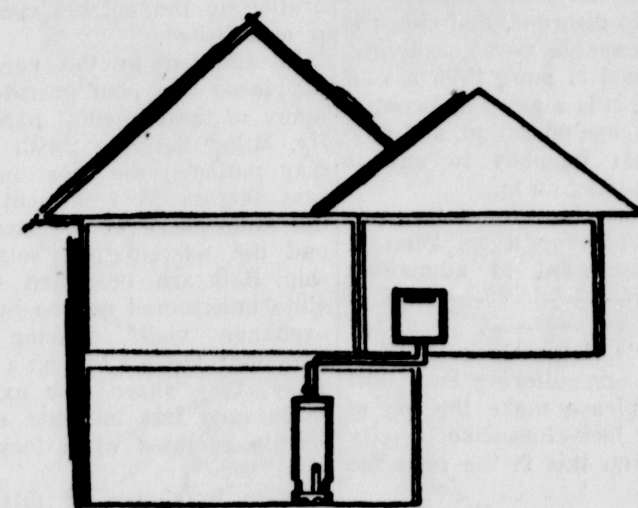

1 Install a GAS Heater that Vents through the Wall

New vents for many heaters eliminate the need for expensive chimneys and flues. Any outside wall is an ideal place to locate these handy heaters. And what a wide variety you have to choose from ... there's a style and size to fit your exact requirements. And most can be thermostatically controlled.

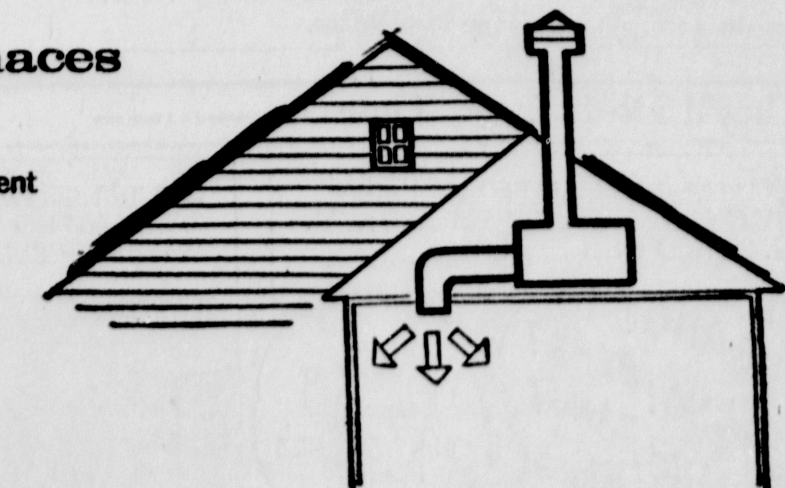

2 Use Hot Water from Your GAS Water Heater

The unique "Chill Chaser" can be installed in any room. Hot water from your Gas Water Heater circulates through a coil in the "Chill Chaser" where a fan distributes the heat into the room. Since the water is heated at the water heater, no flue is needed for the "Chill Chaser". Best of all, you can control the room temperature thermostatically.

3 Compact GAS Furnaces Tuck Away Out of Sight

The attic, or a closet, provide excellent spots to locate Gas furnaces. Approved metal flues can extend right through the roof to keep installation costs to a minimum. These fresh air furnaces filter and circulate the air and keep it at pre-selected temperatures.

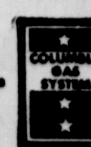

GAS is the secret of economy and comfort

Don't give way to the temptation to heat a cold spot with a cheap portable heater. The cost of operation is extremely high and what might seem like economy at first often turns out to be an unnecessarily expensive venture.

Lausche Feels Dubious about Cut in Taxes

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, says that the proposed cut in federal taxes is an experiment which "if it proves wrong in all probability will be catastrophic in its damaging impact upon the strength of our country."

"I would like to vote for a tax cut," Lausche said in a speech at the Independent Grocers Alliance President's Conference.

In an apparent reference to proponents of a tax cut, he said he would "not join that movement on the false prophets who are with us."

The major dangers which beset the United States, Lausche said, do not originate from other nations, but from "the weakness of our domestic management." He cited as home-grown weaknesses federal social welfare programs and the "dangerous position" of U.S. gold reserves.

"The stresses are beginning to manifest themselves," he said. "If they ever break loose inflation will run rampant."

The Ohio senator also warned of Russia's "pretended reconciliation with the free West."

Cuba, he said, has become the principal base of training for Communists of the world.

"The longer we delay in dealing effectively with Castro," Lausche said, "the worse our position will be."

Glenn's experience in government and politics apparently has been limited to addressing a joint session of Congress. Yet his performance in that role won accolades.

Wilkinson's governmental training apparently was confined to serving as a special adviser to President Kennedy on physical fitness. He is reported

Many highly regarded members of the Senate today had little or no experience in government before taking their current positions. And perhaps even the inexperience would prove valuable. Both are men of action and leadership.

The two, even though of opposing parties, also likely would find another fact common in their experience: that the unanimous cheers of the grandstands and TV audiences come to an end when one hits the political campaign trail. This could be a shock to both.

NEW YORK (AP)—The cost of living isn't following the rules this winter. It has risen to a new high at a time when it wasn't supposed to, on the basis of past average behavior.

And rising prices in some basic materials pose a further worry along the same line. A chance of any drop in the index is even more unlikely than usual.

Consumers haven't been happy about any of this. And now the statisticians are a bit perturbed, although putting most of the blame on the weather. They still hold to the belief that the rise in the cost of living will continue to be gradual rather than picking up much steam and causing a marked flurry of inflation.

In some lines, workers have been helped in meeting higher living costs by a rise in their take-home pay. And Congress is talking about increasing the take-home pay for countless others by passing a federal tax cut bill by the end of next month.

What pushed the cost of living to a new high in December of 107.6 per cent of the 1957-59 base period was largely the damage to winter crops by unusual freezes in the South, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. But also rising from the November figures were housing, personal care and recreation.

Only twice before in the last 10 years had the December index topped the November figure. And the January index is expected to stay around the record high.

Biggest increases last year came in June, July, November and December. The year end figure of 107.6 compared with 105.9 in December 1962. Every component of the index had risen during the year, with services showing the biggest gains.

Emperor of the Pigeon Hole

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals to the disorganized mass of mankind is the orderly person.

The orderly person is the lint picker of the human race, the emperor of the pigeon hole.

He believes everything has its proper place, and if he can't find any other place for it he puts it in the waste basket.

Neatness often is praised as a virtue whereas, in fact, it more often is a vice—if not a downright sin.

There are basically only two types of people—the hoarders and the discards.

The hoarders are the clutter-bugs of this world. They are normal.

They never throw anything away. Anything that happens to them is worth saving—be it a tooth broken in kindergarten, a love letter received in college, or a pair of combat boots worn in war.

The hoarder is afraid to throw anything away because he never knows when it might turn out to be useful. His voyage through existence becomes happily baggage-ridden, and wherever he takes a fresh step he creates a new debris.

The orderly person, on the other hand, is a fellow who turns something into nothing. He is like a man trying to bail himself out of a sinking lifeboat. He is so busy throwing things away that when he finally departs it is as if he had never been there.

In my opinion the compulsively neat person is the victim of an inhuman malady. This has to be here, that has to be there—and before he goes to sleep at night he has to write little memos to himself about how he will organize tomorrow. It is as if he were deathly afraid of life's natural spontaneity.

He lives in a world held together by paper clips. His desk at the office always looks as if it had just been born, his home wears the antiseptic air of a surgeon's arena. He doesn't inhabit life—he just goes through it.

The neat person is never satisfied with his own neatness; he must inflict it on others. He is abnormal; he is a fanatic.

One of the great beauties of life is its disorder, and chaos is an inescapable part of living. This world is more than a vast laundry. It is a great and continuing salvage operation, and anything that happens to one is worth holding on to.

My motto is: "Don't throw it away. Whatever it is, keep it. You may want to admire it later."

Editor's Note: Once a year, Boyle's long-suffering boss tells him to please make the top of his desk look less like a city dump. And this is the response he gets.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Mental institutions in Scotland and England have inaugurated an unusual and particularly considerate program for some of their patients.

These patients who are beginning to show evidence of recovery are encouraged to take a two-week holiday vacation from their own hospital in order to visit and stay at another mental institution.

On superficial observation, the purpose of this program does not seem clear. On closer scrutiny, however, many benefits were noted both for the patients and for their own ward personnel who accompany them on this journey.

Dr. Henry J. B. Miller, Superintendent of the AILSA Hospital in Ayr, Scotland, organized this program and induced six neighboring hospitals to become active participants.

The patients help develop the entire schedule for weeks in advance of their travel period. Social activities, clothes, amusements are all carefully anticipated and enthusiastically planned.

Under excellent and sympathetic supervision, the patients travel by bus and are made aware of how well accepted they are in outside associations. Their happiness, even with the limited restrictions in the new hospital, is quickly apparent and reflects itself later as they return to complete mental health.

At first, patients needed a great deal of persuasion to take part in a project that removed them from their protected, secure hospital wards.

Soon the enthusiasm spread throughout the hospitals and stimulated the interest of many patients who had avoided these trips. Even the more seriously ill and depressed patients readily accepted the idea of such a holiday and gained immeasurably by the outside contacts it established.

In addition to the personal happiness this plan provides to many of these mental patients, Dr. Miller believes "with long-stay patients, the most important factors in treatment are the atmosphere of the hospital and the nurse-patient relationship. Both are promoted to a quite unexpected degree by the exchange visits. During the time that the patients are away, they share new experiences, and this intimate relationship remains when they return."

Those in charge of this humane undertaking have been impressed by the strides made

Concord, N. H. — Things political, in this New Hampshire State capital, are about as clear as the mud that, over the past week-end, seemed to be replacing the prematurely melting snows of winter. The Republican primaries, scheduled for March 10, were supposed to indicate a preference between Nelson Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater. But everybody and his brother and sister seem to be getting into the race, including George Lincoln Rockwell, the head of the American Nazi Party, who is around trying to scurry up the hundred signatures necessary to get him on the ballot.

Nelson Rockefeller, working out of his headquarters at the New Hampshire Highway Hotel here in Concord, has put his campaign into high gear by holding a long pep meeting from which he sent his 1,100 paid bush-beaters back to beating the bushes for all they were worth. At a Friday night dinner, to nerve his partisans up, Rocky again challenged Barry Goldwater to debates at the crossroads. On Saturday morning William Loeb, editor of the Manchester Union Leader, stuck his nose into affairs by quoting from a telegram sent by Rockefeller to former Republican national committee chairman Len Hall during an old campaign for Republican nomination in New York. Said Rockefeller: "I cannot believe that a series of debates between Republican candidates is the best way to strengthen the Republican Party. . . . My belief is that all of us should concentrate our campaign on the issues presented by the failure of the leadership of the state Democratic administration. . . ."

"Bill" Loeb, of course, is known locally as a "mean one". But it was Rockefeller he was quoting, now any of the "right-wing extremists" who are mentioned here by his detractors as providing his daily reading.

To mix things up a bit more, Rockefeller, in his Friday speech, put himself in the tradition of the Republican Party "that gave us Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt and Eisenhower — and another great Republican who was a personal friend of mine, Styles Bridges." The very next night, at a rally sponsored by the enthusiastic New Hampshire Youth for Goldwater movement, the widow of Styles Bridges, who has announced on more than one occasion that she would like to take her late husband's place on the floor of the U. S. Senate as New Hampshire's spokesman in Washington, graciously accepted a plaque from a couple of hundred vociferous Goldwater fans. And her acceptance speech, by implication, put the late Senator Bridges in Goldwater's corner.

The buzz in the local taprooms compounded the confusion. A wit who had just arrived announced that he had encountered Harold Stassen on the road coming north to file for the primaries. Stassen, so the wit remarked, would be delayed in getting to Concord because he had to stop off to file for Mayor of Trenton, New Jersey, and for probate judge or something in Hartford, Conn. In any case, Stassen had sent word that he would indeed be filing in New Hampshire. Down in Portsmouth, N. H., presidential nomination petitions were being circulated for Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who had promised an announcement on her primary purposes. A slate of delegates for Henry Cabot Lodge had already filed for themselves, confidently looking forward to Lodge's blessing. Former Governor Wesley Powell was making menacing gestures, whether for himself or as a prospective stalking horse for somebody else. An American Firster from Chicago, Lars Daly, promised to be in the battle, along with a mysterious woman from Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Fifi Carpenter-Swain.

Clear as New Hampshire mud? And is Mr. Nixon waiting in the wings?

A BADLY ADVERTISED benefit performance in the Hollywood sector drew only a few hundred patrons in a huge barn of a playhouse that seated thousands. Star Benny. Everybody back stage took it for granted that Benny would be so depressed when he saw the sparsity of paying customers that he would cut his act short and buzz off in disgust.

That, however, is not the way a wonderful pro like Jack Benny operates. Instead of doing a perfunctory job, he worked twice as hard as usual and gave those few hundred patrons a performance they will be talking about for a long time.

Explained Benny later, "When a customer leaves his home and buys a ticket to see you, he's entitled to the best you've got, even if he's the only one in the house."

What must be one of the most cynical remarks ever made—as well as a frightening insight into the mental attitude of a world-famous author—was a comment of Somerset Maugham (author of "Of Human Bondage"). Said Maugham acidulously, "It is not enough that a writer succeed: his friends must also fail!"

Jack Paar is heartily in favor of shorter taxicabs. "When they knock you down," he explains, "they don't stay on you so long."

The orderly person, on the other hand, is a fellow who turns something into nothing. He is like a man trying to bail himself out of a sinking lifeboat. He is so busy throwing things away that when he finally departs it is as if he had never been there.

In my opinion the compulsively neat person is the victim of an inhuman malady. This has to be here, that has to be there—and before he goes to sleep at night he has to write little memos to himself about how he will organize tomorrow. It is as if he were deathly afraid of life's natural spontaneity.

He lives in a world held together by paper clips. His desk at the office always looks as if it had just been born, his home wears the antiseptic air of a surgeon's arena. He doesn't inhabit life—he just goes through it.

The neat person is never satisfied with his own neatness; he must inflict it on others. He is abnormal; he is a fanatic.

One of the great beauties of life is its disorder, and chaos is an inescapable part of living. This world is more than a vast laundry. It is a great and continuing salvage operation, and anything that happens to one is worth holding on to.

My motto is: "Don't throw it away. Whatever it is, keep it. You may want to admire it later."

Editor's Note: Once a year, Boyle's long-suffering boss tells him to please make the top of his desk look less like a city dump. And this is the response he gets.

They'll Do It Every Time

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Mental institutions in Scotland and England have inaugurated an unusual and particularly considerate program for some of their patients.

Those patients who are beginning to show evidence of recovery are encouraged to take a two-week holiday vacation from their own hospital in order to visit and stay at another mental institution.

On superficial observation, the purpose of this program does not seem clear. On closer scrutiny, however, many benefits were noted both for the patients and for their own ward personnel who accompany them on this journey.

Dr. Henry J. B. Miller, Superintendent of the AILSA Hospital in Ayr, Scotland, organized this program and induced six neighboring hospitals to become active participants.

The patients help develop the entire schedule for weeks in advance of their travel period. Social activities, clothes, amusements are all carefully anticipated and enthusiastically planned.

Under excellent and sympathetic supervision, the patients travel by bus and are made aware of how well accepted they are in outside associations. Their happiness, even with the limited restrictions in the new hospital, is quickly apparent and reflects itself later as they return to complete mental health.

At first, patients needed a great deal of persuasion to take part in a project that removed them from their protected, secure hospital wards.

Soon the enthusiasm spread throughout the hospitals and stimulated the interest of many patients who had avoided these trips. Even the more seriously ill and depressed patients readily accepted the idea of such a holiday and gained immeasurably by the outside contacts it established.

In addition to the personal happiness this plan provides to many of these mental patients, Dr. Miller believes "with long-stay patients, the most important factors in treatment are the atmosphere of the hospital and the nurse-patient relationship. Both are promoted to a quite unexpected degree by the exchange visits. During the time that the patients are away, they share new experiences, and this intimate relationship remains when they return."

Those in charge of this humane undertaking have been impressed by the strides made

Clear as Mud

By John Chamberlain

Concord, N. H.: — Things political, in this New Hampshire State capital, are about as clear as the mud that, over the past week-end, seemed to be replacing the prematurely wasting snows of winter. The Republican primaries, scheduled for March 10, were supposed to indicate a preference between Nelson Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater. But everybody and his brother and sister seem to be getting into the race, including George Lincoln Rockwell, the head of the American Nazi Party, who is around trying to scurry up the hundred signatures necessary to get him on the ballot.

inaction petitions were being circulated for Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, who had promised an announcement on her primary purposes. A slate of delegates for Henry Cabot Lodge had already filed for themselves, confidently looking forward to Lodge's blessing. Former Governor Wesley Powell was making menacing gestures, whether for himself or as a prospective stalking horse for somebody else. An American Firster from Chicago, Lars Daly, promised to be in the battle, along with a mysterious woman from Cincinnati, Ohio, Mrs. Fifi Carpenter-Swain.

The response of the New Hampshire citizenry to the whole big, buzzing, blooming confusion is reflected in all the local polls. Goldwater has a lead over Rockefeller, all right. But in terms of volume it doesn't amount to anything yet. Stewart Lamprey, chairman of the local Goldwater campaign and Speaker of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, said that in a private poll of 969 people in Milford, a town that had listened to both candidates, Goldwater got 175 votes, Rockefeller 75 — and the rest, a large majority, were still undecided.

Clear as New Hampshire mud? And is Mr. Nixon waiting in the wings?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A BADLY ADVERTISED benefit performance in the Hollywood sector drew only a few hundred patrons in a huge barn of a playhouse that seated thousands. Star attraction was Jack Benny. Everybody backstage took it for granted that Benny would be so depressed when he saw the sparsity of paying customers that he would cut his act short and buzz off in disgust.

That, however, is not the way a wonderful pro like Jack Benny operates. Instead of doing a perfunctory job, he worked twice as hard as usual and gave those few hundred patrons a performance they will be talking about for a long time.

Explained Benny later, "When a customer leaves his home and buys a ticket to see you, he's entitled to the best you've got, even if he's the only one in the house."

What must be one of the most cynical remarks ever made—as well as a frightening insight into the mental attitude of a world-famous author—was a comment of Somerset Maugham (author of "Of Human Bondage"). Said Maugham acidulously, "It is not enough that a writer succeed: his friends must also fail!"

Jack Paar is heartily in favor of shorter taxicabs. "When they knock you down," he explains, "they don't stay on you so long."

The Woman of Samaria

HOW THE TRUTHS OF CHRIST SET MEN AND WOMEN FREE

Scripture—John 4:1-42.

By R. H. RAMSEY

IN HIS Gospel, John not only records the miracles performed by Jesus, he also includes detailed narratives of interesting conversations between Christ and persons seeking His counsel. Let us consider one such conversation, that of Christ
with the woman of Samaria.

Our lesson begins with the news of the arrest of John the Baptist reaching Christ and His disciples. Knowing the time of His death had not yet come and that His presence and popularity in Judea could create a premature crisis, Jesus left for Galilee. Guided by an inner voice, the Master startled the others with His decision to go by way of Samaria, a province avoided by "good Jews" due to ancient hatreds and feuds. Jesus led His followers straight to this forbidden province, not stopping until He had reached its most historic spot, the well of Jacob. There Jesus rested
while His disciples went to buy food (vv. 1-6).

While He sat there, a woman came to draw water. Jesus opens the conversation by asking her to give Him a drink.
The woman is stunned, bewil-

There is a very close connection between the woman's request and Christ's command. If she is thirsting for the water of salvation, then the thirst cannot be truly awakened unless she is conscious of her sins and has a sense of guilt. Jesus reminds her of her immoral life and she becomes suddenly closemouthed. She does not deny her sins, yet she is not ready to make a full confession of them, so she changes the subject. She declares Christ a prophet and reminds Him of common ancestors who worshipped on the very mountain where they stood.

Jesus replies that God is a spirit and must be worshipped in spirit and in truth, meaning that man must worship God with both his inward spirit and his outward actions.

When the woman introduces the subject of the Messiah, the time has come for Christ to clearly identify Himself. Thus,
the woman of Samaria is the first to hear from Christ's own lips His declaration that He is the Messiah.

The sudden return of the disciples interrupts the conversation at this point, and the

him, shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."—John 4:14.

dored. Here is this stranger, an Arabian Jew, asking her, a Samaritan, for a favor. She answers His request with a question (v. 9) harking back to the old prejudices and quarrels, a mad and senseless hostility fostered and encouraged by the governments of both provinces.

Jesus' answer says, in effect,
that if she knew to whom she was speaking, she would have asked Him for a drink instead,
and He would have given her
"living water," meaning salvation or eternal life. Thinking He means the spring water bubbling at the very bottom of the well, the woman reminds Him
the well is very deep and He has nothing to obtain the water with,
unless He is greater than Jacob who made the well.

Ignoring her reference to Jacob, Jesus enlarges on His original statement. Those who drink ordinary water will grow thirsty again. But those who drink of His water shall never thirst, that the water would be as a well of eternal life within them.

Now the woman's curiosity changes to desire, and she asks for the water. Instead, Christ commands her to go get her husband and bring him back.

woman rushes off to tell all she meets that Christ, the promised Messiah, is at Jacob's well.

Strange indeed were these words from this previously despised woman. She was the last person from whom the proud Samaritans ever expected to hear anything on a religious subject. Nonetheless, she was able to convince them that a remarkable person, the Messiah Himself, was out at the well,
and they went trooping out to see for themselves.

Those who came listened, believed and begged the Master to stay as their honored guest and teach some more. Jesus and His disciples remained in Samaria for two days. In that time He taught them a New Testament of brotherhood of man for man;
of forgiveness as the answer to
old grudges, feuds and hatreds;
of a love that heals all wounds.

This lesson in tolerance was His first public teaching and many more became believers
because of what they heard.
They told the woman, "It is no longer because of what you said that we believe, for we have heard Him ourselves; and we know that this is, in truth, the Saviour of the world." (v. 42).

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "Education is of various kinds. Physical and mental training is recognized as a necessity by most people,
but there is a third kind of education even more vital; that of the spirit. The prophets of God have come through all the ages
to educate and illumine mankind and to bestow spiritual understanding. The Baha'i Faith teaches that in the coming era, education will avoid both the extreme of religious fanaticism and the extreme of scientific narrow-mindedness.
Combining spiritual and ethical instruction with the study of arts and sciences, it will fittingly prepare the children of the future to uphold the principles of universal peace."

The Woman of Samaria

HOW THE TRUTHS OF CHRIST SET MEN AND WOMEN FREE

Scripture—John 4:1-42.

By E. H. Ramsey
IN HIS Gospel, John not only records the miracles performed by Jesus, he also includes detailed narratives of interesting conversations between Christ and persons seeking His counsel. Let us consider one such conversation, that of Christ with the woman of Samaria.

Our lesson begins with the news of the arrest of John the Baptist reaching Christ and His disciples. Knowing the time of His death had not yet come and that His presence and popularity in Judea could create a premature crisis, Jesus left for Galilee. Guided by an inner voice, the Master started the others with His decision to go by way of Samaria, a province avoided by "good Jews" due to ancient hatreds and feuds. Jesus led His followers straight to the forbidden province, not stopping until He had reached its most historic spot, the well of Jacob. There Jesus rested while His disciples went to buy food (vv. 1-6).

While He sat there, a woman came to draw water. Jesus opens the conversation by asking her to give Him a drink. The woman is stunned, bewil-

There is a very close connection between the woman's request and Christ's command. If she is thirsting for the water of salvation, then the thirst cannot be truly awakened unless she is conscious of her sins and has a sense of guilt. Jesus reminds her of her immoral life and she becomes suddenly close-mouthed. She does not deny her sins, yet she is not ready to make a full confession of them, so she changes the subject. She declares Christ a prophet and reminds Him of common ancestors who worshipped on the very mountain where they stood.

Jesus replies that God is a spirit and must be worshipped in spirit and in truth, meaning that man must worship God with both his inward spirit and his outward actions.

When the woman introduces the subject of the Messiah, the time has come for Christ to clearly identify Himself. Thus, the woman of Samaria is the first to hear from Christ's own lips His declaration that He is the Messiah.

The sudden return of the disciples interrupts the conversation at this point, and the dered. Here is this stranger, an obvious Jew, asking her, a Samaritan, for a favor. She answers His request with a question (v. 9) harking back to the old prejudices and quarrels, a mad and senseless hostility fostered and encouraged by the governments of both provinces. Jesus' answer says, in effect, that if she knew to whom she was speaking, she would have asked Him for a drink instead, and He would have given her "living water," meaning salvation or eternal life. Thinking He means the spring water bubbling at the very bottom of the well, the woman reminds Him the well is very deep and He has nothing to obtain the water with, unless He is greater than Jacob who made the well.

Ignoring her reference to Jacob, Jesus enlarges on His original statement. Those who drink ordinary water will grow thirsty again. But those who drink of His water shall never thirst, that the water would be as a well of eternal life within them.

Now the woman's curiosity changes to desire, and she asks for the water. Instead, Christ commands her to go get her husband and bring him back. Based on copyrighted outlines produced National Council of Churches of Christ woman rushes off to tell all she meets that Christ, the promised Messiah, is at Jacob's well.

Strange indeed were these words from this previously despised woman. She was the last person from whom the proud Samaritans ever expected to hear anything on a religious subject. Nonetheless, she was able to convince them that a remarkable person, the Messiah Himself, was out at the well, and they went trooping out to see for themselves.

Those who came listened, believed and begged the Master to stay as their honored guest and teach some more. Jesus and His disciples remained in Samaria for two days. In that time He taught them a New Testament of brotherhood of man for man; of forgiveness as the answer to old grudges, feuds and hatreds; of a love that heals all wounds.

This lesson in tolerance was His first public teaching and many more became believers because of what they heard. They told the woman, "It is no longer because of what you said that we believe, for we have heard Him ourselves; and we know that this is, in truth, the Saviour of the world." (v. 42).

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "Education is of various kinds. Physical and mental training is recognized as a necessity by most people, but there is a third kind of education even more vital; that of the spirit. The prophets of God have come through all the ages to educate and illumine mankind and to bestow spiritual understanding. The Baha'i Faith teaches that in the coming era, education will avoid both the extreme of religious fanaticism and the extreme of scientific narrow-mindedness. Combining spiritual and ethical instruction with the study of arts and sciences, it will fittingly prepare the children of the future to uphold the principles of universal peace."

Various Plans Discussed at WSWS Session

An all day sewing session and potluck lunch were planned when members of the St. Paul WSWS met in the home of Mrs. D. A. Marshall, Route 3.

Mrs. Arthur Leist presided during the business meeting. Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Cliff Hedges. Plans were made for World Service Day and World Day of Prayer to be observed in February.

All members were invited to participate in the day of sewing to be held Feb. 4 in the home of Mrs. Maurice Bailey. Aprons will be made for different homes supported by the EUB Church. A style show was presented by the social relations committee to demonstrate the type of aprons needed. Models were Mrs. C. J. Hill, Mrs. Elbert Rawlins, Mrs. Emmitt Hinton, Mrs. Hedges, Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Bailey.

Mrs. Marvin Kneese was in charge of the program. Members were asked to write thank you notes to God for gifts received during the past year accompanied with a New Years resolution.

A game of tall story telling concluded the program.

Lunch was served by the hostess and Miss Nellie Bolender.

Founders Day Banquet Held By Derby GC

Mrs. Dwight DeVoss, regional director of OAGC, Mrs. Thomas Wilson, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Myers Riley, Columbus, were among the guests present when Derby Garden Club members met Monday at Holiday Inn for the annual Founders' Day Banquet.

Table favors were made by the hostesses, Mrs. Joe McCoy and Mrs. Albert Fields. Floral arrangements from Marion's Flower Shop, Mt. Sterling, decorated the tables and were awarded as door prizes.

Mrs. James Musselman, Mrs. Bruce Ridgway and Mrs. Leonard Liff were in charge of the program. Group singing and games were enjoyed. The surprise appearance of two characters dressed as "Garden" and "Gardener" highlighted the occasion. They were enacted by Mrs. Pat McCoy and Mrs. Pat Wilson.

Dear Abby: There Was a Reason!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My heart feels like a ton of lead inside me. My daughter, who is a lovely girl of 19, asked permission to spend the night with her girl friend, whom we shall call Laurie. We know Laurie and her parents very well. Laurie has spent many nights with our daughter. I wanted our daughter to stop at the grocery store before coming home the next morning, so I telephoned her at Laurie's house. TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, Jan. 31, 1964. There are 335 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history. On this date in 1848, Congress authorized erection of a public monument to George Washington on public land in the District of Columbia. It was completed in 1884, and opened to the public in 1888.

On this date: In 1795, Alexander Hamilton resigned as secretary of the treasury because the salary was inadequate for his needs. In 1917, Germany announced it would begin unrestricted submarine warfare in World War I.

In 1944, the American invasion of the Marshall Islands began in World War II with a landing at Kwajalein in the Pacific.

In 1950, President Harry Truman announced he had ordered the Atomic Energy Commission to produce the hydrogen bomb.

Ten years ago—Frank Leahy resigned as Notre Dame's head football coach due to illness.

Five years ago—Communist Hungary said it would limit the activities of the U.S. legation in Budapest because it considered those activities detrimental to national security.

One year ago—In a special farm message, President John F. Kennedy asked voluntary controls by farmers on their milk and feed grain production.

Abandoned Houses To Be Boarded
CLEVELAND (AP) — Urban Renewal Commissioner J. B. Williams has ordered all vacant buildings in urban renewal areas boarded up as the result of the discovery of the mutilated bodies of two women in a city-owned house on the East Side.

He sent a crew of 10 men into the University-Euclid and East Woodland renewal areas Thursday with instructions to board up the windows and doors of all vacant buildings, whether the city owns them or not.

The bodies of Mrs. Annie Fay Chandler, 35, and Miss Janice Hopper, 22, were found Wednesday in the basement of a house that was being wrecked. The discovery was made when a crane lifted the house from its foundation.

Discovery of the two bodies and an earlier slaying started police on a hunt for a killer they described as "vicious, sadistic—a maniac."

New Speaker Setup Bared

Faculty-Student Screen Aids UofC

CINCINNATI (AP) — A committee of three students and four faculty members now has the responsibility of screening prospective off-campus speakers for student organizations at the University of Cincinnati.

The policy change was announced Thursday after a special meeting of the UC Board of Directors. The meeting followed a flareup Wednesday over plans by a student group to ask Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama to speak.

The previous policy left the decision on inviting outside speakers with the official faculty advisor of student organizations.

That policy, UC President Walter C. Langsam said, was changed because "it was felt that we were asking too much of any one faculty advisor by placing on him the whole burden of deciding what was properly dignified, ethical and educational to deserve the facilities, dignity and publicity value of the university."

The Young American for Freedom announced they had planned to invite Gov. Wallace to speak Feb. 11.

YAF Chairman Jeffery Spragins claimed that the group's faculty advisor, Prof. Raymond F. Eling, "was pressured" not to issue the invitation because of the Southern governor's outspoken approval of racial segregation.

But Dr. Langsam told a student assembly Thursday "that the university administration did not forbid his appearance or cancel any invitation to Gov. Wallace."

A board statement said, "The university has an obligation to make reasonably sure that the proposed speaker, in light of his character, reputation, background and subject, may be expected to contribute to the educational objectives of the institution."

Conference Board Will Meet Tuesday
The Child Conservation League Spring Conference Board will meet 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Dear Abby: There Was a Reason!

DEAR ABBY: My heart feels like a ton of lead inside me. My daughter, who is a lovely girl of 19, asked permission to spend the night with her girl friend, whom we shall call Laurie. We know Laurie and her parents very well. Laurie has spent many nights with our daughter. I wanted our daughter to stop at the grocery store before coming home the next morning, so I telephoned her at Laurie's house. And where were they?

ONE SAD MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I don't know where they were, but I would certainly ask them. They lied for the same reason that most people lie—because they haven't the courage to tell the truth.

DEAR ABBY: What is a mother supposed to say when her son, age 13, brings a schoolmate home with him after school to "study", but they fool around in the yard a while, go into his bedroom and make a few phone calls, and then at about 5:45 when she is setting the table, he says to her right out loud so his friend can hear, "Mom, can Bruce stay for supper? We'll study afterwards."

THE MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: She is supposed to say, "Yes, dear." (And she usually does.)

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever been kissed by someone who doesn't wear his dentures? It's nothing! My husband (I'll call him Popeye) had all his teeth extracted years ago, but he refuses to wear his plates. I say if he really wants to, he can keep trying until they fit, but it doesn't do any good. My husband reads your column and thinks you're great. Am I right to feel hurt?

POPEYE'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: ALL dentures can be fitted properly, if one will only give the dentist a chance. Tell "Popeye" the next time he wants to kiss you he'll have to catch you in the dentist's office.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "INDIANA SWINGER": In the immortal words of Henry L. Mencken: "Conscience is that still small voice which warns you that someone may be looking."

CINCINNATI (AP) — A committee of three students and four faculty members now has the responsibility of screening prospective off-campus speakers for student organizations at the University of Cincinnati.

The policy change was announced Thursday after a special meeting of the UC Board of Directors. The meeting followed a flareup Wednesday over plans by a student group to ask Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama to speak.

The previous policy left the decision on inviting outside speakers with the official faculty advisor of student organizations.

That policy, UC President Walter C. The Young American for Freedom announced they had planned to invite Gov. Wallace to speak Feb. 11.

YAF Chairman Jeffery Spragens claimed that the group's faculty advisor, Prof. Raymond F. Eling, "was pressured" not to issue the invitation because of the Southern governor's outspoken approval of racial segregation.

But Dr. Langsam told a student assembly Thursday "that the university administration did not forbid his appearance or cancel any invitation to Gov. Wallace."

Say, wouldn't it be something if the Drake Bulldogs snatched the championship of the Missouri Valley Conference out of the mouth of the Wichita Wheatshockers?

Far-fetched? Not if you consider that while Wichita whipped Cincinnati 62-59 Thursday night in college basketball's outstanding game of the night the Bulldogs were quietly waiting in the wings hoping no one would notice their six-game winning streak and 12-3 season record.

If the Bulldogs keep going the way they have and win the MVC title it would be one of the most stunning reversals in collegiate annals. Last year the Bulldogs finished last in the MVC with a 3-9 league mark and 11-14 over-all.

Wichita, now 7-0 in the MVC, beat Drake 67-49 on Jan. 4, but since then the Bulldogs, led by Gene Bogash of Winamac, Ind. have defeated Purdue, Bradley, New Mexico State, Cincinnati, Air Force and Iowa State.

While the Bulldogs, currently 2-1 in the MVC, were keeping their fingers crossed hoping for a Wichita defeat, the Wheatshockers capitalized on a break to turn back Cincinnati.

A turnout of 10,700 at Wichita saw the Wheatshockers turn apparent defeat into victory in the last 14 seconds. Down 59-56, a layup by Wichita's Dave Stallworth cut the deficit to one point. Then came the big break for Wichita.

Cincinnati put the ball in play, but the Bearcat player who took the pass-in accidentally stepped out of bounds. Wichita took possession and Kelly Pete sneaked in a layup to put the Shockers ahead 60-59. Stallworth, the game's high scorer with 24 points, added the final two points on free throws at the very end.

The closing second heroics upped the record of the nationally seventh-ranked Shockers to 15-3 and wiped out the last faint hopes the Bearcats had of winning their seventh straight MVC crown.

Duke, No. 8 in The Associated Press poll, downed South Carolina 80-67 and Villanova, No. 6, romped over American U. 84-49 in other games involving the AP's Top Ten.

Jeff Mullins' 25 points led Duke, now 12-3, to its 25th straight Atlantic Coast Conference victory. Villanova, now 15-1 broke loose with a 48-point second half behind the combined 40 points of Richie Moore and Wally Jones.

In other games involving Ohio Teams Thursday night, Rio Grande defeated Campbellsville College (Ky.) 80-76, Ohio Northern held off Manchester (Ind.) and won a 90-88 squeaker, and Dick Sower hit 80 per cent from the floor to spark Marietta to an 82-56 Ohio Conference victory over Kenyon.

Sower got 36 points as Marietta won its second victory in eight conference starts. Kenyon's loop record now is 1-6.

Packers To Retain Hornung on Roster

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Paul Hornung will play for the Green Bay Packers and nobody else if he is re-instated, Vince Lombardi, coach-general manager of the Packers, is very definite about this.

"Once again I will say that Paul Hornung will not be traded," said Lombardi at the close of the annual meetings of the National Football League. "I can not emphasize that too much. Any trade talk is ridiculous. I positively have no thought of trading him. If Hornung plays he will play for us."

BeeGee Cage Expert Calls Komives 'One of Greats'

HOWARD (BUTCH) KOMIVES

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—"He's one of the greatest defensive basketball players I have ever coached."

That description doesn't sound like one associated with the nation's leading scorer but that's one verse Harold Anderson, a dean of college basketball sings about Bowling Green's Howard (Butch) Komives.

The quiet 6-foot-1 Komives set a personal record 43 points Saturday against neighboring rival Findlay College to climb back to the top of the torrid national scoring race with a 33.6 average.

"He's one of the greatest all-around players I've ever seen in my 29 years of coaching," Anderson continued. For 21 of those years Anderson has tutored at Bowling Green State University. However, he retired as coach after last season but remains as athletic director.

Warren Scholler, the new BeeGee cage coach, says he usually puts Komives on the opposition's top scorer and in most instances that man is in for a bad evening.

"The Notre Dame game this year was Butch's greatest," Scholler recalled. "We put him on Larry Sheffield who had scored 41 points the game before against Indiana."

Sheffield wound up with nine points and Komives poured in 41.

Both Schollar and Anderson talk in superlatives about the quiet 22-year-old senior's dedication to the game. He's on the court at every free minute.

A sports writer found Komives alone on the floor Christmas Eve pumping in his jumping left-hand shots. Christmas day he was back on the court.

This week was exam week at Bowling Green and no practice was scheduled — but Komives was at it with passersby through the gymnasium serving as ball retrievers.

Flyweight King Gets Ring Honor

NEW YORK (AP) — Pone Kingpetch, the durable Thai who won the world flyweight title for the third time last week, was named the fighter-of-the-month for January by Ring magazine today.

Kingpetch outpointed Japan's Hiroyuki Ebihara Jan. 23. Ebihara dropped to the leading challenger's position.

In the latest ratings, Ring advanced Argentina's Gregorio Peralta from fifth to third among the light heavyweights. He defeated Wayne Thornton of Fresno, Calif., in Madison Square Garden last Friday.

Thornton, on the strength of his fine showing, moved up to seventh, replacing Henry Hank of Detroit.

New Met outfielder George Altman played in three All-Star games when he was with the Chicago Cubs.

Cage, Hockey Pros Ask End To Trust Curb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Professional basketball and hockey appealed to Congress today for the same exemptions from anti-trust law now permitted baseball.

J. Walter Kennedy, president of the National Basketball Association, and Clarence S. Camp, president of the National Hockey League, made their pitch in testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee. Campbell said he also spoke for the American, Western and Central hockey leagues.

Both endorsed a bill sponsored by the subcommittee's chairman, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to spell out the exemptions for pro baseball, basketball hockey and football.

The subcommittee received a chorus of approving testimony Thursday for the bill from major and minor league baseball executives.

The subcommittee also was told that Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, wants a chance to be heard by the subcommittee.

"He will be heard," Hart said in announcing that Finley has asked for the right to state his case.

Finley is in hot water with the American League and threatening to sue it over his thus far unsuccessful efforts to move the Athletics to either Louisville, Ky., or Oakland, Calif.

Sifford Struggles To Avoid Golf Tie

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —After the first round of the $50,000 Palm Springs Golf Classic, Charlie Sifford was in a first - place tie with Tommy Jacobs.

After the second round, Sifford was tied for the lead with Doug Sanders.

Visiting the press room, as tournament leaders customarily do at the end of each round, Sifford announced Thursday that he didn't feel fit to be tied again.

"I'll be back by myself tomorrow," Sifford promised newsmen after reviewing his one-under-par 71 in round two of the 90-hole event.

With 36-hole scores of 137, Sifford and Sanders were two shots ahead of their nearest rivals.

Baseball Dole Plan Hailed

Redleg Chieftain Dangles Lush Bait

CINCINNATI (AP)—Bill DeWitt, general manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is using the ballplayers' pension plan as bait in signing some 1964 contracts.

He keeps telling the players they can't pass up this sort of a deal:

"I point out that the pension plan is the finest in the world; that a player can begin collecting a minimum $125.50 a month on only five years' service in the major leagues and that when he is only 50 years old."

"Just think of this: A player at 65 with 20 years' service will receive $723.25 a month."

During a player's active life, he has a life insurance policy of $40,000. Even after he retires, a $20,000 life insurance policy is still his.

"Since the pension fund began, $27,500,000 have been paid into it and the players' share is considerably less than 10 per cent," DeWitt said.

The Reds had some whopping salaries in 1963 and some of the players getting these are scheduled for reduced pay.

DeWitt Thursday signed Frank Robinson, veteran outfielder and the highest-salaried player in Reds history. He got a salary estimated as high as $60,000 last year.

Robbie took a cut after the worst season he had experienced since joining Cincinnati in 1956.

Besides Robinson, other Reds due for possible pay reductions are pitchers Bob Purkey and Joey Jay. Pitchers Jim Maloney, Joe Nuxhall and John Tsitouris probably will get raises.

Lefty Jim O'Toole is bargaining with DeWitt. He believes his 17-14 record last year is worth a raise.

Purkey and Jay had arm and shoulder troubles. Purkey, 23-5 in 1962, had a 6-10 record in 1963. Jay dropped from 21-14 to a 7-18 record last year.

Johnny Edwards, the best young catcher to come to the National League in years, has been signed and was given a raise. Vada Pinson, brilliant centerfielder, also reported received a substantial pay boost.

Rube Marquard, a left - handed pitcher won only nine games in the two years preceding 1911, but in 1911 he took 24 decisions for the New York Giants.

In Memoriam

In memory of Esther Spangler

ago today, Jan. 31st, 1958.
Memories are treasures that no one
can steal.
Death is a heartache that nothing
can heal.
Some may forget you, now that you
are gone.
But we remember, no matter how
long.
Sadly missed by husband, parents, brothers and sisters.

In loving memory of a Dear Dad
and Grandfather, John E. Ferguson,
who passed away Jan. 31, 1963.
One year has passed since that sad
day.
The one we loved was called away;
The call was sudden, the shock severe.
With little thought that death was
near.
Only those who have lost can tell.
The pain of passing without a fare-

While he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by Merkie, Elsie,

In Memoriam

In memory of Esther Spangler
Hayes, who passed away 6 years ago today, Jan. 31, 1958.
Memories are treasures that no one
can steal.
Death is a heartache that nothing
can heal.
Some may forget you, now that you
are gone.
But we remember, no matter how
long.
Sadly missed by husband, parents, brothers and sisters.
In loving memory of a Dear Dad
and Grandfather, John E. Ferguson,
who passed away Jan. 31, 1958.
One year has passed since that sad
day.
The one we loved was called away.
The call was sudden, the shock severe.
With little thought that death was
near.
Only those who have lost can tell.
The pain of passing without a farewell.
While he sleeps a peaceful sleep,
His memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed by Merle, Elsie,
Gary and Jim.

Perry Farmer Seeks Seat on Commission

A Perry Twp. farmer yesterday submitted his bid for the Republican nomination as Pickaway County Commissioner.

Declaring himself a candidate in the May primary election was Homer Long, Route 1, New Holland. He is seeking one of two seats on the commission which will be decided in November following the selection of party candidates in May.

Long, who owns and operates a farm in Perry Twp., was an unsuccessful candidate for a seat on the Board of Commissioners in November 1960.

HE IS a member of several Masonic bodies, including Pickaway Shrine Club. He is a member of the BPO Elks Lodge and the Pickaway Tractor Club.

He is the first Republican to file for the commission nomination. However, at least three other GOPsters are circulating petitions for the office.

Two Democrats have already filed. They are Charles Morris, Route 4, and Charles Glitt, S. Court St.

Two Programs Offered for Army Nurses

To encourage young women to enter the U. S. Army Nurse Corps, two programs of financial help are being offered to civilian nurses, M-Sgt. Stanley Nelson, local recruiter, said today.

The first is the Army Student Nurse Program. He explained that any student 18 to 28 years who is enrolled in an Army approved nursing school may apply. She enlists as a reservist in the WAC, but continues at her nursing school for her final year, if she is at a diploma school; or for two years, if she is at a degree school.

During this time she receives all books and tuition, and the pay and allowances of her rank. Upon graduation, she is discharged from the WAC and is appointed a 2nd Lieutenant in the Army Nurse Corps.

For a one-year Army sponsorship she serves two years in the Army Nurse Corps; for a two-year sponsorship she serves three years.

The second program is the Registered Nurse Student program. Any registered nurse from 21 to 32 years, enrolled or accepted in an accredited college or university, who can complete requirements for a BS or MS in nursing in one calendar year, can apply.

If selected, she is appointed a 2nd Lieutenant and continues to attend school on a full-time basis. During this time, she gets the monthly pay and allowances of her rank. She serves three years on active duty as an officer in the Army Nurse Corps, including the year spent in school.

Sgt. Nelson said that further information concerning the two programs may be obtained by contacting his office at 41½ Paint St., Chillicothe.

Harsha Speaks Continued Control of Canal Urged

Congressman William H. Harsha (R-Ohio) today announced that he has introduced a concurrent resolution in the House of Representatives expressing the sense of Congress that the United States shall not surrender its sovereignty or control over the Canal Zone or the Panama Canal.

Congressman Harsha said: "The grant by Panama to the United States of exclusive sovereignty over the Canal one in perpetuity for construction of the Canal and is perpetual maintenance operation and protection was an absolute, indispensable condition precedent to the great task undertaken by the United States, and the United States has fully performed its responsibilities under the treaty of 1903. Therefore, there is nothing to negotiate, and this country should stand firm."

This nation has paid Panama the full indemnity and annuities agreed upon by the two nations, has completely carried out the terms of the treaty, and stands on firm moral and legal footing in this dispute Harsha said. "And under no circumstances should it yield to the Communist-inspired demands of Panama," he concluded.

Radio-active Gear Found In Oil Area

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—What looked like "a piece of pipe that rattled" but actually was a metal container of dangerous radio-active material had Morrow County authorities literally beating the bushes for a time Thursday night.

The container was found Wednesday—the same day it dropped off a truck at nearby Cardington—but no one knew what it was. William Sanderson of Columbus, a telephone company repair man, found it beside a railroad track. He left it at a junk yard.

Thursday the Sheriff's Office was notified of the loss by the Eastern Well Service of Wooster. Company officials said the radioactive material was on loan from the Atomic Energy Commission for use in their Morrow County oil operations.

Deputies asked radio and television stations to broadcast appeals for recovery of the material and to warn that it was dangerous. This was what led to recovery of the container.

Sanderson said Thursday night in Columbus he apparently suffered no ill effects from handling the container and added that no one had advised him to undergo an examination.

"I didn't know what it was," Sanderson said. "It just looked like a piece of pipe and it rattled."
